Scheuling the facebook live events

Every half year or so, we should re-create the "Church Service" recurring event.

- Event name: Church Service
- Press Recurring event
    - Weekly
    - sundays
    - From 10:00 AM
    - To 12:00PM
    - Start date next sunday
    - End date: bit more than half year ahead (depending on how much it lets you to set)

- Description:

```
The real service will start at 10:30 AM, the live stream starts 30 min earlier so that you could tune in on time.

You can find the live stream at:
https://facebook.com/100064617556957/live_videos

We also stream to YouTube:
https://youtube.com/@calvarychapelpaphos6683/streams

Join us in real life, or through the live stream!
```

- Settings -> Stream -> Use persistent stream key (!!!)
- Return to home

Now there is right now a bug in facebook, even though it shows it will go automatically live after the creation of the event, it won't. The solution seems to be to go back a second time, and enable it.

- At the page view, "Live video"
- Scheduled broadcasts
- Select the just created one
- Three dots -> view
- Set up live video
- Turn on "Automatically go live"
- Save
